Question 1: Section A (Reading Skill, Grammar, Vocabulary, Note-making and Summary) [15]

Question 1.A: Read the following extract and answer the questions given below: [11]

Prominent among the urges that inspire and drive a person in life, is the me to be a somebody. It is quite human, especially in the early stages of life, to want to do something to win laurels and admiration of all around. There's a pitfall though - the very process of becoming a somebody may subtly reduce yon to a nobody.
American poet Emily Dickinson, who lived in obscurity, has an interesting poem on this theme. "I'm nobody!" she declares, with apparent pride.
"Who are you?
Are you nobody, too?"
Why should anybody be happy about being nobody?
The poem explains :
"How dreamy to he somebody!
How public, like a frog
To tell your name the livelong day
To an admiring bog!
The word 'bog' is significant. When you become a somebody, you invite adulation : this then begins to bog you down. The moment you think you have arrived, you begin to stagnate, or, worse, your downslide begins. An endless list of writers, artists, sportsmen, politicians.... fit this pattern of personal history.
To sustain your development in absolute terms, to become a true somebody, it is important to remain a temporal nobody. Even if destiny makes you a temporal somebody, you should be able to see yourself as merely an agent of a superior power; no more. This requires an exercise of will. You have to constantly watch out and talk to yourself morning and evening.

(1) What is the main idea of the extract? (1)
(2) Why is it important for one to remain a temporal nobody? How? (1)
(3) What does Emily Dickinson declare with pride? Why? (2)

Question 2: Section A [15]

Question 2.A: [11]

Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:
But even in a poverty-free world where every man and woman would earn enough to take care of themselves and their family, there would still be situations of temporary poverty due to a sudden catastrophe or misfortune, a bankruptcy or business downturn leading to failure, or some personal disease or disaster.
A poverty-free world might see a whole group of families, locations, or even regions devastated by some shared disasters, such as floods, tire, cyclones, riots, earthquakes or other disasters. But such temporary problems could be taken care of by the market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness-driven enterprises.
There would always remain differences in lifestyle between people at the bottom of society and those at the top income levels. Yet that difference would be the difference between the middle-class and luxury class, just as on trains in Europe today you have only first-class and second-class carriages, whereas in the nineteenth century there were third- class and even fourth-class carriages - sometimes with no windows and just hay strewn on the floor.
Can we really create a poverty-free world? A world without third-class or fourth-class citizens, a world without a hungry, illiterate, barefoot under-class?
(1) What is the extract about?
(2) How will the poverty-free world take care of natural disasters?
(3) According to the writer, what would, 'the world without poverty' be like?
(4) What can we do to help the poor in our society?
(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed:
(i) Temporary problems could be taken care of by market mechanisms.
(Rewrite the sentence beginning with 'Market mechanism ..... ')

MAHARASHTRABOARDBOOKS.COM

(ii) In the nineteenth century, there were third-class carriages.
(Form a Wh-question to get the underlined part as an answer.)
(iii) There would still be situations of temporary poverty.
(Rewrite it using 'can'.)
(6) What do the following words in the extract mean -
(i) Devastated
(ii) Hay

Solution: (1) The extract is about imagining a world without poverty or a poverty-free world.

(2) A poverty-free world with the help of market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness driven enterprises can take good care of people against natural disasters.

(3) According to the writer, 'the world without poverty' will be like where every man & woman would earn enough to take care of themselves & their family, save people from natural disasters, where no people can be hungry, illiterate and barefoot under-class.

(4) We can help the poor or needy people in our community in several ways. They are:
- By providing them with education for free.
- Better understanding & creating awareness in people.
- By donating our old belongings.
- By creating a group of volunteers or with the help of some NGO.
- By donating eatables, groceries & by organising collection drives with the help of people.
- By fund raising, personal financial help & so on.

(5)
(i) The market mechanism can take care of temporary problems.

(ii) Which century noticed the third-class carriages?

(iii) There can still be situations of temporary poverty.

(6)
(i) Destroyed or damaged due to disasters.

(ii) Grass cut and dried for use as fodder

Question 5.A: [4]

Read the following extract and rewrite it from the point of view of the mother: [you may begin with : My son never saw the skeleton in the cupboard Yes, there was a skeleton in the cupboard, and although I never saw it, I played a small part in the events that followed its discovery. I was fifteen that year, and I was back in my boarding school in Shimla after spending the long winter holidays in Dehradun. My mother was still managing the old Green's hotel in Dehra - a hotel that was soon to disappear and become part of Dehra's unrecorded history. It was called Green's not because it purported to the spread of any greenery (its neglected garden was chocked with lantana), but because it had been started by an Englishman, Mr. Green, back in 1920, just after the Great War had ended in Europe. Mr. Green had died at the outset of the Second World War. He had just sold the hotel and was on his way back to England when the ship on which he was travelling was torpedoed by a German submarine. Mr. Green went down with the ship. The hotel had already been in decline, and the new owner, a Sikh businessman from Ludhiana, had done his best to keep it going. But post-War and post-Independence, Dehra was going through a lean period. My stepfather's motor workshop was also going through a lean period - a crisis, in fact -- and my mother was glad to take the job of running the small hotel while he took a job in Delhi. She wrote to me about once a month, giving me news of the hotel, some of its more interesting guests, the pictures that were showing in town.

Question 5.B.i:

Read the following extract and convert it into a dialogue between Charles and Oliver in about 120 words

[You may begin with: Charles: Hi Orlando! I am a famous wrestler.....]

Frederick had a very famous wrestler, called Charles, in his court. He was champion of the country and had fought many brave and strong young men. Now, Orlando was a fine wrestler, too, and decided to try his strength against Charles. Charles came to see Oliver about this, asking him to persuade Orlando to give up his idea.

'I am a professional wrestler, sir,' Charles explained to Oliver, 'and I must always fight to win, in order to keep my reputation. Anyone who fights me runs the risk of being badly hurt, please warn your younger brother, and persuade him to change his mind.

But the wicked Oliver thought this was a good opportunity to get rid of Orlando, so he told Charles all kinds of lies about the young man. Lie pretended that Orlando was bad and ungrateful, and deserved any punishment which Charles could give him. I would rather you broke his neck than his finger,' Oliver said, 'and you have my permission to do. What you like with the boy.'

So Charles promised to do his best to kill Orlando. 'If he comes to the fight tomorrow, I'll give him his payment,' Charles said. 'If he can walk away after I have finished with him, never wrestle again.'

Solution:

Charles:	Hi Orlando! I am a famous wrestler. I am a champion of the country & had fought many brave & strong young men. (Orlando was a fine wrestler, too, & decided to try his strength against Charles)
Charles:	Since I am a professional wrestler, Sir I must always fight to win, in order to keep my reputation. Anyone who fights me runs the risk of being badly hurt. Please warn your younger brother & persuade him to change his mind. (Oliver thought this was a good opportunity to get rid of Orlando, so he told all lies to Charles. Oliver pretended that Orlando was a bad & ungrateful & descended punishment).
Oliver:	I would rather break his finger and you have my permission to do what you like with the boy. (So Charles promised to do his best to kill Orlando)
Charles:	If he comes to fight tomorrow, I'll give him his payment. If he can walk away after. I have finished with him, I'll never wrestle again.

Question 5.B.ii: Read the following extract and extend it by adding an imaginary paragraph of your own in about 120 words [4]

Eventually I made my way to England where I was sponsored by a Jewish charity, put up in a hostel with other boys who had survived the Holocaust and trained in electronics.

Then I came to America, where my brother Sam had already moved. I served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War, and returned to New York City after two years. By August 1957, I'd opened my own electronics repair shop. I was starting to settle in.
One day my friend Sid who I knew from England called me. "I've got a date. She's got a Polish friend. Let's double date."
A blind date? Nah that wasn't for me.
But Sid kept pestering me and a few days later we headed up to the Bronx to pick up his date and her friend Roma.

Solution: Sid & I picked Bronx and then headed to pick her friend Roma. Roma was an air-hostess with a reputed Airways. The moment Herman saw here he fell in love with her. It was love at first sight for him. All four of them went for lunch together & then for a long drive. While they went for long drive Herman & Roma started talking to each other as this was their first meeting both of them were quiet shy & hesitant to make conversation. After some time, all four of them started talking about their childhood memories. Herman wanted to confess to Roma that he likes her but couldn't do it at first. All of them were having a good time with each other & now it didn't seem that this was a blind date for Herman & Roma while they were discussing their childhood memories & school days. Herman & Roma came to know that they were that same childhood buddies who used to share everything with each other & met after all these years. This came as a surprise to both of them.

To,
The Editor,
The Hindustan Times,
Plot No.-08, Mayur Vihar,
Malad (E).
Mumbai : 400060.

Subject: Noise Pollution on Hill Road.

Dear Sir,

Through the esteemed column of your newspaper, I want to draw the attention of the authorities towards the noise created by loudspeakers & vehicles in this colony. Not a single day passes, when one cannot escape from the noisy atmosphere. The sound of loudspeakers at the time of religious ceremonies, parties or wedding ceremonies adds to the noise in the area. People use the loudspeakers at a high volume, which harms our ears and other sensitive parts of the body. It impacts people of all age group but creates more problem for old age group & babies. The vehicular pollution too disturbs our health. The patients are unable to have a wink of sleep. The attention of the students is affected due to loud noise, & thus puts a direct impact on their health & studies.

I request the authorities to take remedial steps in this regard & instruct to use the loudspeakers at a lower pitch within the allotted time period. This will definitely bring a relief to all & the residents would be protected.

On 2nd October, 2017 our college organized cleanliness drive under Swachh Bharat Swasth Bharat Abhiyaan on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti. The main purpose of this programme was to create awareness among the students regarding cleanliness & its benefits. Under this programme, all the students from 11th & 12th grade had to participate. Even professors were the essential part of this drive. As a part of this cleanliness drive, we had to clean the whole college. The sweepers of the college had to be the observers. Our principal started the programme by cleaning the corners of the playground. Then the professors & students followed suit.

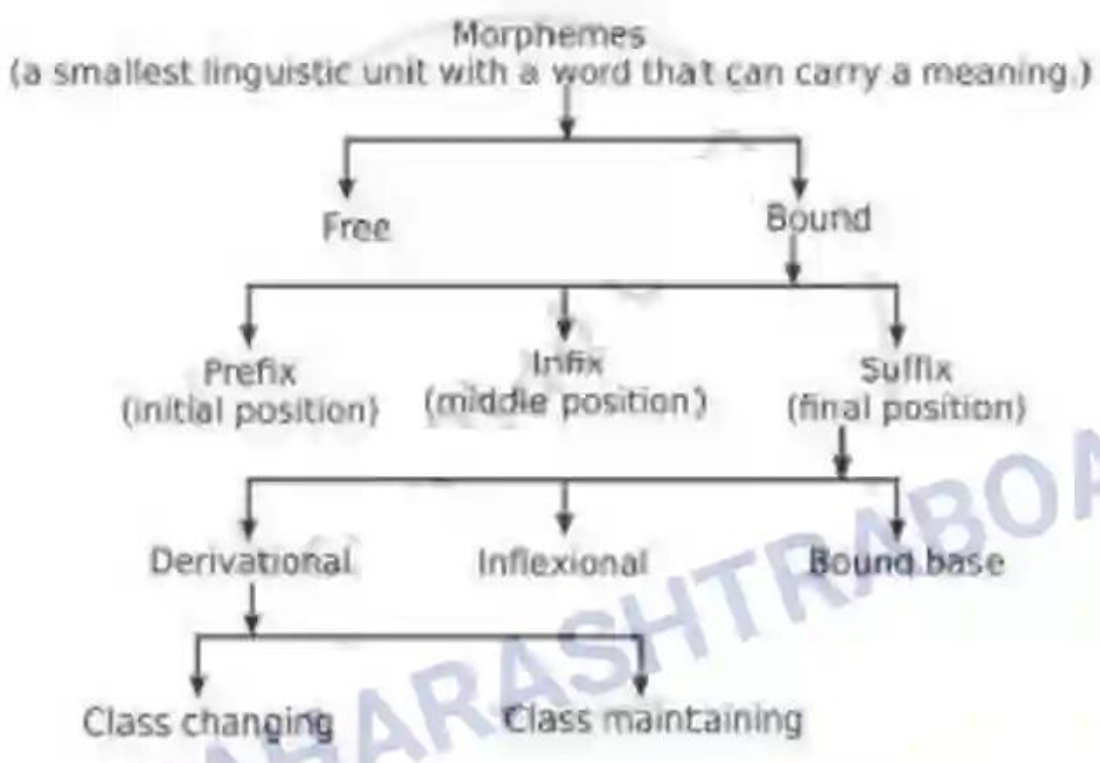

Some of us picked brooms & started our job. Some of the students did the dusting of the classrooms. And others went to the playground & started picking wrappers lying scattered there. All the garbage collected was thrown in the dustbin. After this, we all assembled in college auditorium.
There we were given refreshment and snacks. Thereafter our principal delivered the speech telling use the importance of cleanliness of the college for their noble job. In the end we all took oath of keeping our home, locality & city clean. It was a unique experience for all of us. We were curious to be the part of this great drive that could have transformed the face of our country forever.

Facebook is an excellent networking site • Everybody can network successfully through Facebook • Facebook allows information with people far and wide • Facebook allows users to create a profile page which interrelates with friends and relatives

Solution: "Facebook is not a user-friendly device"

Facebook, a social networking site enables one to share a lot of personal information about oneself, which in some cases can lead to crime and kidnapping cases also. It is one of the fastest and cheapest network that leaks out the personal information in general to public. It shows the location and status including the user's photographs. What is the use of making friends in far off countries? Who cannot reach you in case of emergencies when one is unaware of the presence, love and affection of parents, friends and relatives living nearby. Just looking at the profile pictures, fake ids how can one get carried away? Youngsters leave home, city in blind search of the other person.

According to me, overuse of social networking sites such as Facebook can lead to antisocial behaviour. Teens might also become the victims of cyber bullying on Facebook or engage in narcissistic behaviour themselves. Since Facebook makes it easy to find and connect with people from your past, it can also place a strain on relationships. Facebook can be a serious threat to the productiveness of both students and working people, because they become too addictive to such social sites. So Facebook hinders physical and mental growth of an individual, it is not at all a user friendly.

Speech Writing :

Imagine that your college has organised an 'elocution competition' and the topic of the competition is 'Save Trees, Trees Save'. Prepare a short speech with the help of the points given below :
Providers of human needs, ecological balance, rain showers, etc.

Solution: Good morning everyone. A very welcome to one and all present here. Today on the occasion of World Environment Day, I would like to share my thoughts about the importance of saving trees.

Trees are a great part of our planet. Humans & other life cannot survive on this planet without trees. They are a valuable gift of nature to us. Hence, we should honour the presence of trees. It has been for a long time that people have understood the importance of trees. Our country is the pioneer of the idea.

As it is always said that whatever we do to our nature they always repay us. The same way trees repay us. Trees give us a lot of benefits. Right from food, wood, houses, furniture, etc.... trees provide us with many useful things. They give us fuel to bum, fruits to eat, spices & also many beneficial medicines. They also provide us with oxygen that quite essential for we humans. They help in reducing pollution & they are food for animals in the environment.

Now-a-days, we have promoted deforestation to a great extent nature than encouraging afforestation. Due to which there are a lot of problems & consequences that are being faced by all the living & non-living things in nature. Global warming has increased for our future generations. Hence, it is an alarming time for all of us to realise & understand the importance of trees & saving our environment. Each & every citizen should feel responsible for this & take a certain initiative in several ways to promote & be a part of this cause "Save Trees, Trees save".
