Question 1: SECTION-A (Reading Skill, Grammar, Vocabulary, Note-making and Summary) [15]

Question 1.A: [12]

Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:

Now, as I stood on the shore of that desolate Highland loch
I raised my voice in a surge of self-justification : "By Heavens!
This is my opportunity. Gastric ulcer or no gastric ulcer, I will write a novel." Before I could change 1ny mind I walked straight to the village and bot1ght myself two dozen penny exercise books.

Upstairs in my cold, clean bedroom was a scrubbed deal table and a very hard chair. Next morning, I found myself in this chair, facing a new exercise book open upon the table, slowly' becoming aware that, short of dog-Lati11 prescriptions, I had never composed a significant phrase in all my life. It was a discot1raging thought as I picked 11p my pen and gazed out of the window. Never mind, I would begin. Three hours later Mrs. Angus, the farmer's wife, called me to dinner. The page was still blank.

As I went down to my milk and junket-they call this "curds" in Tarbert - I felt a dreadful fool. I felt like the wretched poet in Daudet's Jack whose im1nortal masterpiece never progressed beyond its stillborn opening phrase: "In a remote valley of Pyrenees ..... ". I recollected, rather gri111ly, the sharp advice with which my old schoolmaster had goaded me to action. "Get it down!" he had said. "If it ~tops in your head it will always be nothing.
Get it down." And so, after lunch, I went upstairs and began to get it down.

Question 2: [15]

Question 2.A: [12]

Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:
We commemorate so many special days such as Republic Day, Independence Day, Mother's Day and so on. Well, here is one day that deserves not only a commemoration but our total dedication - Earth Day, 22 April. At Sanctuary, we live our lives like every day is Earth Day, but we all believe that it would be, fantastic to remind our relatives, friends, neighbours, teachers, and elders on this day that protecting Mother Earth can end up making us both happy and safe. Will you do something this Earth Day? Here's a handy list of things you can do-

(1) Cut Consumption: Consume as little as possible on Earth Day. This 'is a day when you call Refuse (to buy new things), Repair and Reuse (old stuff), Recycle (what you cannot reuse), Reject (stuff that is toxic or dangerous to the environment) and Renew (your purpose and resolve to protect the planet).

(2) Cut Energy: (a) Ditch the old incandescent bulbs and shift to CFLs or LEDs (Google both to find out more). (b) Walk or use public transport, try not to use private cars to save fuel. Carpool. Cut down on trips. Use Skype· instead of traveling for meetings. (c) Switch off unnecessary gadgets. (don't just use the remote .... walk to the mains!).

(3) Cut Waste: Start a waste segregation system in your building, school or neighbourhood. Compost organic waste, sell what you can to the raddi-wallah and give him a small token of.. appreciation also for he is protecting your world. Collect unused papers from old notebooks and make new ones from them.

(4) Cut out plastic: Speak to at least five shopkeepers in your area and tell them you and your friends will only use their shops if they move away from wasteful plastic packaging, particularly thin plastic bags.
(1) What do you understand from this extract?
(2) What steps can we take to keep our environment clean?
(3) Why should we commemorate Earth Day?
(4) What is your opinion regarding shifting to CFLs or LEDs?

(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed :
(i) Earth Day deserves a commemoration and our total dedication.

(Use 'not only - but also'.)
(ii) Start a Waste Segregation System in your building.
(Rewrite it beginning with 'Let'.)
(iii) You can sell waste to the raddi-wallah and give him a small token of appreciation.
(Replace the modal auxiliary by another showing 'obligation'.)
(6) What do the following words in the extract mean?
(i) resolve
(ii) toxic

Solution: (1) The extract is about Earth conservation and saving it by not using man-made resources which can harm the environment and sacrificing the same on Earth Day.

(2) Our environment can be made clean by the following activities:
(i) Consume as little as possible and try to Repair, Reuse and Refuse to new things.
(ii) Replacing old bulbs with CFL's or LED's as well as using public transport to reduce pollution.
(iii) We can start a waster segregation system which can help to sell off the compost organic waste in the form of money.
(iv) Avoid using thin plastic bags or any other wasteful plastic packaging which can harm the environment.

(3) We live our lives like every day is Earth Day, but we all should believe the same because of the harmful effects that we as humans are contributing every day in the form of air pollution, water pollution as well as affecting flora and fauna. By commemorating Earth Day and following the environmental saving techniques of cutting consumption, saving energy, reducing waste and avoiding man-made materials of plastic.

(4) Regular bulbs release a lot of toxic chemicals in the air which makes them polluted as if such chemicals are inhaled by humans can contribute to severe mental disorders such as brain Haemorrhage. Using CFLs and LEDs firstly would help in less consumption of electricity and as it doesn't have health hazard chemicals it does not release any poisonous gaseous chemicals.
(5)
(i) Not only Earth Day deserves a commemoration but also our total dedication.
(ii) Let us start a Waste Segregation System in our building.
(iii) You must sell waste to the raddi-wallah and give him a small token of appreciation.

(i) To find a solution
(ii) Dangerous / poisonous

Question 3: (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below :[15]

Oil is one of the world's major sources of energy. We depend on it as fuel for heating, transport, and generation of power.

For centuries, animal and vegetable oils have been used for cooking and as a source of artificial light. But it is mineral oil which meets most of the world's needs today.

Crude mineral oil comes out of the earth as a thick brown or black liquid with a strong smell. It is a complex mixture of many different substances, each with its own individual qualities. Most of them are combinations of hydrogen and carbon in varying proportions. Such hydrocarbons are also found in other forms such as bitumen, asphalt and natural gas. Mineral oil originates from the carcasses of tiny animals and from plants that live in the sea.

Over millions of years, these dead creatures form large deposits under the sea bed and ocean currents cover them with a blanket of sand and silt. As this material hardens, it becomes sedimentary rock and effectively shuts out the oxygen so preventing the complete decomposition of the marine deposits underneath. The layers of sedimentary rock become thicker and heavier.

Their pressure produces heat, which transforms the tiny carcasses into crude oil in a process that is still going on today.

The earth's crust is split into a few hu·ge continental plates which move continuously rather like rafts on a sluggish tide. Geologists call this rnoven1ent as 'continental drift'.

(1) What does the extract ·tell us about?

(2) In which form does crude mineral oil come out of the earth and from what does it originate?

(3) How is 'continental drift' formed?

(4) According to you, how can we stop the excessive use of energy?

(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed :

(i) Oil is one of the world's major sources of energy.
(Rewrite it as a negative sentence without changing its meaning.)

(ii) As this material hardens, it becomes sedimentary rock.
(Make it a compound sentence.)

(iii) Geologists call this movement 'con·tinental drift'.
(Frame a 'Wh-question' to get the underlined part as an answer.)

(6) Give the antonyms from the extract for :

(i) artificial

(ii) lighter

(B) Write a brief summary of the above extract with the help of the points given below and suggest a suitable title.

Oil as a source of energy - our dependence - types of oil -mineral oil origin of crude oil formation of crude oil-farming of sedimentary rocks - continental drift

Solution: (A)

1. The extract tells us about oil one of the world's major sources of energy.

2. Crude mineral oil comes out of the earth as a thick brown or black liquid with a strong smell. It originates from the carcasses of tiny animals and from plants that live in the sea.

3. The Earth's crust splits into a few huge continental plates which move continuously rather like rafts on a sluggish tide. This movement is called Continental drift.

4. We can stop the excessive use of energy:
(a) By walking to short distances with our feet instead of using transport.
(b) We should use public transport or carpooling instead of using our private individual transport.
(c) We should turn off the engine of a vehicle on traffic signals while waiting for the green light.

5. (i) None other than the oils is the world's major source of energy.
(ii) It becomes sedimentary rock when this material hardens.
(iii) What do geologists call this movement as?

6. (i) Natural.
(ii) Heavier

(B)

5. SECTION-C (Rapid Reading and Composition) [8]

Question 5.A: Read the following extract and rewrite it from the point of view of Orlando: [4]

[You may begin with : When Duke senior and his followers were taking meal I rushed .....]

The Duke senior and his followers were sitting down to a meal one day when Orlando rushed out from among the trees, his sword in his hand. 'Stop, and eat no more!' he cried. The Duke and his friends asked him what he wanted. 'Food,' said Orlando. 'I am almost dying of hunger.

They asked him to sit down and eat, but he would not do so. He told them that his old servant was in the wood, dying of hunger. 'I will not eat a bite until he has been fed ', Orlando said.

So the good Duke and his followers helped him to bring Adam to their hiding place, and Orlando and the old man were fed and taken care of. When the Duke learned that Orlando was a son of his old friend Sir Rowland de Boys, he welcomed him gladly to his forest court.

Orlando lived happily with the Duke and his friends, but he had not forgotten the lovely Rosalind. She was always in his thoughts and every day he wrote poetry about her, pinning it on the trees in the forest. 'These trees shall be my books,' he said, 'so that everyone who looks in the forest will be able to read how sweet and good Rosalind is.' Rosalind and Celia found some of these poems pinned on the trees. At first they were puzzled, wondering who could have written them; but one day Celia came in from a walk with the news that she had seen Orlando sleeping under a tree, and she and Rosalind guessed that he must be the poet.

Solution: I rushed out from the trees, sword in hand, just as the Duke senior and his followers were sitting done to a meal. I stopped them from eating and told them that I wanted food as I was almost dying of hunger. The courteously asked me to sit down and eat, but I remembered Adam, and replied that I would not eat until he had been fed. He was in the wood, and the Duke and his servants helped me to bring Adam to their hiding place. They then took care of both of us. The Duke welcomed me when he knew that I was the son of his old friend, Sir Rowland de Boys.

Though I continued to live happily with Duke and his friends. I had not forgotten Rosalind. She was always in my thoughts, and I wrote poetry about her and pinned it on the trees in the forest. They served as books and told everyone one looked in the forest how sweet and good Rosalind was. I later came to know Celia and Rosalind saw some of these poems and were puzzled. Then Celia saw me one day, and she and Rosalind guessed that I was the poet.

Question 5.B | Attempt one of the following [4]

Question 5.B.1: [4]

Read the following extract and convert it into a dialogue in about 120 words :
[You may begin with: Herman: Roma, let's come here.....]
We piled back into Siq's car, Roma and I sharing the backseat. As European Jews who had survived the war, we were aware that much had been left unsaid between us. She broached the subject, "Where were you during the war?" She asked softly.
'The camps,' I said, the terrible memories still vivid, the irreparable loss I had tried to forget. But you can never forget.
She nodded. "My family was hiding on a farm in Germany, not far from Berlin," she told me. "My father knew a priest, and he got us Aryan papers."
I imagined how she 1nust have suffered too, fear, a constant companion. And yet here we were both survivors, in a new world.
"There was a cramp next to the farm," Roma continued. "I saw a boy there and I would throw him apples every day."
What an amazing coincidence that she had helped some other boy. "What did he look like?" I asked. "He was tall, skinny, and hungry. I must have seen him eve1y day for six months".
My heart was racing. I couldn't believe it. This couldn't be.
"Did he tell you one day not to come back because he was leaving Schlieben?"
Roma. looked at me in amazement. "Yes!"
"That was me!"
I was ready to burst with joy and awe, flooded with emotions.
I couldn't believe it! My angel!
"I'm not letting you go." I said to Roma. And in the back of the car on that blind date, I proposed to her. I didn't want to wait.

Solution: Heman : Roma, come let's sit here.

Roma: Herman, what were you doing during the war?
Herman: I was in the camps, Roma. It was terrible. I will never forget that experienece.

Roma: Yes, I can understand. My family was hiding on a farm in Germany, not far from Berlin. My father knew a priest and he got us Aryan papers.
Herman: You must have suffered, too, with fear as a constant companion! And yet we both survived, in a new world!
Roma: There was a camp next to our farm. I saw a boy there. I used to throw him apples every day.
Herman: What did he look like?
Roma: He was tall, skinny and hungry. I must have seen him every day for six months.
Herman: I can't believe this! Did he tell you one day not to come back because he was leaving Schlieben?
Roma: Yes! How did you know?
Heman: That was me! I'm so happy to meet you again! My angel! I'm not letting you go. Marry me!

Question 5.B.2: [4]

Read the following extract and extend it by adding an imaginary paragraph of your own in about 120 words:
The evening came, and nobody appeared to bring the poor bird a drop of water; it opened its beautiful wings, and fluttered about in its anguish; a faint and mournful "Tweet, tweet," was all it could utter, then it bent its little head towards the flower, and its heart broke for want and longing. The flower could not, as on the previous evening, fold up its petals and sleep; it dropped sorrowfully. The boys only came the next morning; when they saw the dead bird, they began to cry bitterly, dug a nice grave for it, and adorned it with flowers. The bird's body was placed in a pretty red box; they wished to bury it with royal honours. While it was alive and sang they forgot it, and let it suffer want in the cage; now, they cried over it and covered it with flowers. The piece of turf, with the little daisy in it was thrown out on the dusty highway.

Solution: The next day the boys went in search of another bird which they could put in the cage. They felt terribly guilty for what had happened to the lark, "We have been very careless indeed." They said to each other "We will get another bird and look after it very well." They spoke to their mother and asked her for help to get another bird. However, she was quite angry with them. "You have done a terrible thing, boys," she said. "You have killed an innocent bird. You have no right to put free birds in a cage. How would you like to be shut up in a room all the time and not be allowed to run and play freely? You are never going to cage a bird again. Is that Clear?

Mumbai.
Date: 28th Feb, 2017.

To,
The Commissioner of Municipal Corporation,
Mumbai.
Sub: - Complaint regarding irregular water supply.

Respected Sir/Madam,
I the resident of East Shri Nagar Colony, would like to draw your attention towards the irregular water supply in our locality. We are facing this problem, since the time the new building has been constructed in our locality, due to which the water supply has been disrupted.
Due to the construction of the new building, the water supply has been portioned and now the supply has been interrupted as earlier the regular water supply used to be 3 hours in the morning and the same in the evening, but now the same has been reduced to just an hour as it needs a new water supply unit for individual building.

I hope for your contribution in solving this problem. Looking forward to your reply.
Thanking you.

Question 6.B.1: [4]

Read the following Intros of news items. Choose any ONE of them and write the headline, the dateline and a short continuing paragraph for it.
(i) A shortage of onions in Maharashtra has surged prices by 30 percent. It forced the authorities to import onions from abroad.
(ii) The birth anniversary of the late President Dr. S. Radhakrishnan was celebrated yesterday in Saraswati Kanya Pathshala as Teacher's Day.

Solution: Shortage of Onions in Maharashtra

Press Trust of India
Mumbai, 28/02/2017 at IST: 12:45 pm

Shortage of onions in Maharashtra has surged prices by 30 percent and it has forced the authorities to import onions from abroad and this has created a difficult situation in the state as onions contribute to majority of our diet and shortage of the same will effect to all walks of life. This shortage striked due to few whole sellers who actually already stock the onions from the farmers and instead of forwarding them to customers they over stock them. They did this activity in order to get more profit for the over stock goods but due to improper handling and incorrect ways of stocking it resulted in corrosion of the onions which in turn impacted the wholesaler and customer and this resulted in price hike from 25 Rs. to 75 Rs. per kg. By looking at this activity the food and the drug minister have communicated with other states, so that the high demand of the people of Maharashtra can be met. As per the meeting yesterday the minister will be making the goods available by the end of this week and as per the promise this can also help in reducing the price back to what it was.

Question 6.C.2: [4]

Prepare a paragraph with an appropriate title to be used for the Counter-View Section on the following topic in about 120 words:

"Can the use of Internet enhance students' learning?"

You can take the help of the following points from the View Section.

View Section
It's easier to find all the information.
It makes learning interesting.
It provides easy access to resource material.
It gives various explanations I viewpoints about any topic.
It gives the latest updated knowledge.

Solution: Advantages of the use of the Internet to Enhance Students' Learning

VIEW:

Internet helps students to find out all the possible information easily at one go such as finding similar or opposite words in the form of Synonyms or Antonyms. Internet helps creative learning where a student tries to learn and understand the information independently which helps in boosting self-confidence and interesting learning. Internet helps in quicker accessing of information which helps in solving problems much quicker without waiting for someone to actually teach you. With the internet there's something that has started which is known as virtual learning where a teacher doesn't need to be physically available and still a detailed explanation about various subjects and topics can be found in the form of video lectures, saved videos and interactive sessions. Internet is such a mode of technology that gets updated every day, every hour, every minute and this helps the world to be connected together and transfer knowledge without relying on a few.

Disadvantages of the use of the Internet to Enhance Students' Learning

Though the Internet helps in finding out the words easily it makes the students a bit lazy to even find the same by using Dictionary. Internet though makes learning interesting but there're certain precautions that need to be taken before handing over the charges to students as some of the content won't be acceptable as viewable. As much of the material is available on the Internet students don't feel like reading the basic details by reading textbooks which makes them jump to the marks without reading the exact content. Though the internet helps in explanations without the proper guidance of a teacher it'll be really difficult for a student to figure out what is true and what isn't. Yes, the internet helps to update the latest knowledge but it isn't true always so the person reviewing the same should take proper care.

Question 7.B: [3]

Prepare a speech on 'Father's Day' with the help of the following points :

(1) Man of practical attitude.
(2) Thinker of the future.
(3) Pillar of family.
(4) Greatest family support.

Solution: Good morning to all present here, I would like to take an opportunity to share my views and feelings towards my beloved father who has always been a strong moral and physical support of my life. Because of his practicality, I have always been able to take wise decisions during confusing situations. Due to my father's future thinking and a focused attitude, I was able to select the correct path of life and develop my career. My father has always stood by me as a guide, philosopher and pillar during my tough times as he always believes that strong support leads to achievements and enhances positivity in life. I always believed the word family, creates an atmosphere of unity, support, and equality but my father made me understand the most important part which is love which comes from within and he always kept my expectations ahead without thinking about himself which is a sacrifice not all can go ahead with and I consider him as the greatest family support, due to his never-ending love and passion for making me who I am.

Thank you.
